Bleacher Bums take KCBS best overall at Ribberfest

43 teams compete in pro BBQ cook-off

BY BOB DEMAREE

Jeff Krotke and B.J. Walls don't compete in many barbecue competitions — this year's visit to Madison was just their second to the Madison Ribberfest BBQ and Blues cook-off — but on Saturday they came away as the overall winners of the Indiana State Championship sanctioned by the Kansas City Barbeque Society.

Both men said there wasn't any secret to their success.

"We just cooked it right," said Walls.

Their team, Bleacher Bums BBQ, has only competed a handful of times — mostly in Warsaw, just a 15-minute drive from their home in Mentone — and their only other appearance at Ribberfest was two years ago with last year's event canceled by COVID.

In fact, Ken Schneider, organizer of the Madison KCBS event, said it was only the sixth competition for the Bleacher Bums BBQ team. "We're expecting great things from them," he said.

The overall winner is tallied by combining a team's efforts in chicken, ribs, pork and brisket and Krotke and Walls were both surprised to come out on top. "Oh my gosh, this is great," said Krotke.

A total of 43 teams from six states competed in this year's KCBS competition with 60 judges from eight states tasting and picking the winners, according to organizer Schneider.

"It was a good weekend," said Schneider. "It's like a family reunion, and many had not seen each other in awhile. It's a lot of good people, helping each other out."

In the four main meats, Big Dogg's BBQ with Mario Ramirez of Maineville, Ohio, was the winner in the chicken category while Risky Brisket with Sean Young of Oswego, Illinois, took the ribs category, Continental Barbeque Company with Kent Schuetz of Charlestown won the pork, and JMB BBQ with Casey Ball of Cincinnati had to top brisket.

McQ Smokers with Jim McPherson of Madison was the winner of the "Anything But" category. In "Anything But," the meats cooked can be anything but the four main meats. The desserts winner was Continental Barbeque.

No matter how they placed or what prizes they won, there were plenty of happy competitors. The Green Eggs and Ham team, based in Muncie, has been coming to Madison 14 years, according to Eric Baize who said there were 11 members in that group this year. "We have a lot of fun together," he said, noting they all like to cook, plus they love coming to Madison which was holding its 19th Ribberfest overall. "We have friends here, and enjoy the city. It's a beautiful town, and it's neat that they have the blues festival too. It's a lot of friendship, fellowship and camaraderie."

Regulators on Monday gave full approval to Pfizer's COVID-19 vaccine, according to the Associated Press.

The formula developed by Pfizer and its German partner BioNTech now carries the strongest endorsement from the US Food and Drug Administration, which has never before had so much evidence to judge a shot's safety. More than 200 million Pfizer doses have been administered in the US — as well as hundreds of millions more worldwide — under special emergency provisions since December.

GOP caucus votes Creech as assessor

Promotion of first deputy opens Council spot for Krebs

BY BOB DEMAREE

The resignation of Karen Mannix last week as Jefferson County Assessor resulted in transitions impacting two elected offices when the Jefferson County Republican Party held its caucus Saturday to fill that unexpired term.

Madison City Council member Amanda Creech, who has worked in the Assessor's office since 2008, was chosen as County Assessor, opening a vacancy on City Council where Creech has served since January of 2020.

Carla Eades Krebs, perhaps best known locally as a Hall of Fame basketball player for the Cubs, was elected by Republican precinct committee members to replace Creech representing the Second District on City Council. Krebs was one of two candidates for the post competing against Michael T. Scott, a long-time Cummins employee and former member of Madison school board.

Krebs received endorsement from Madison Mayor Bob Courtney, who was the most recent local official elected by caucus back in 2019 before winning election later that year.

"I am honored and humbled," said Krebs, who noted she is looking forward to serving on City Council. "I want to be a part of making Madison better. I love our city and want to share it with other people."

Krebs, a 1980 graduate of Madison Consolidated High, moved back to Madison last fall after 40 years living in Missouri. She said she's had hopes of returning for many years. "I am very happy to be here, and have been looking for

MPD arrests Sunman man after pursuit

BY THE COURIER STAFF
Madison Police responding to a report of a theft in progress at the Madison Walmart late Friday night arrested a Dearborn County man and a Madison woman but not before the man led police on a pursuit through two nearby apartment complexes before his vehicle struck a tree.

Police were dispatched to the hilltop store at approximately 10:30 p.m. Friday. As officers approached the business, the suspect vehicle — a Dodge Durango — was observed leaving the area and traveling westbound on Demaree Drive.

Patrolman Curtis Shelpman attempted to initiate a traffic stop, but the vehicle failed to yield. Patrolman Josh Nolan turned onto Demaree Drive, from Michigan Road, but the fleeing vehicle drove at him, forcing him from the roadway. The Durango then drove into the grass, turned around, and allegedly attempted to strike Nolan's patrol vehicle a second time but the officer quickly reversed his vehicle to avoid the impact.

The pursuit continued into the nearby Dover Apartments and eventually into the Presidential Estates Complex where the fleeing vehicle drove through yards before striking a tree.

The driver, later identified as Joshua T. Lake 36, of Sunman, Indiana, then fled from officers on foot but was eventually taken into custody after a short foot pursuit. Lake continued to resist officers after being taken into custody, allegedly spitting blood into the face of MPD officers. Lake was transported from the scene to King's Daughters' Hospital Emergency Room for his injuries sustained when his vehicle struck the tree and later transferred to Louisville for additional medical treatment and is listed in stable condition.

According to Madison Police Chief John Wallace, Lake will face numerous charges including battery on a police officer, resisting law enforcement, criminal recklessness, battery by bodily waste, and possession of methamphetamine. Additional charges are likely since MPD officers sustained minor injuries.

The female passenger in the vehicle, Kaytlynn Callis, 25, of Madison, was detained for theft. She remained in the vehicle and did not offer any resistance toward officers.

Jefferson County Sheriff's Deputy Kenny Jasper assisted Madison police. The investigation is ongoing.

Elsewhere, Madison Police conducting a traffic stop at 1 a.m. Monday, Aug. 23, arrested Nicholas E. Tingle, 35, Madison, for possession of methamphetamine and marijuana.. Patrolman Trent Smith stopped Tingle's vehicle for traffic violations in the 900 block of East Street and a check of Tingle's driving status revealed an active warrant for his arrest out of Decatur County for failure to appear on a charged of possession of methamphetamine.

A search of Tingle's vehicle found the methamphetamine and marijuana and he was taken into custody without incident.

Patrolman Curtis Shelpman assisted Smith with the traffic stop and arrest.

On Friday, Aug. 20, Hanover Police Officers were at Circle K there when they observed two people with active warrants for their arrest buying fuel at the pumps.

The officers arrested Jacob Jackson, 38, of Hanover and Moria Grigsby, 35, of Commiskey, without incident. Jackson was charged with his active warrant for theft and possession of legend drug, both Level 6 felonies. Grigsby was charged with her active warrant of theft, also Level 6 felony.

OBITUARIES

Leah Irene Stephenson Beck, 77, of Carrollton, Kentucky, died Thursday, Aug. 19, 2021, at the Thornton Terrace Health Campus in Hanover, Indiana.

She was born on Dec. 23, 1943, in Carroll County, Kentucky, to Laurel Frank Stephenson Sr. and Pearl Vantyle Stephenson of Carrollton. She was raised on a farm on the Little Kentucky River and helped her father and mother farm in her younger days. When her parents' health started to decline, she was their caregiver until their deaths. She had worked for the R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Company in Carrollton for several years, as a cook for Camp KYSOC in Carrollton for several years and as a cook and housekeeper at General Butler State Resort Park. In 1970 she went to work for Kawneer Company in Milton, Kentucky, until retiring as a product packer. She married Charles Joe Beck on Jan. 19, 1974. She enjoyed cooking, baking, yard work, crafts and planting pretty flowers in her yard. She enjoyed helping and taking care of other people and was member of St. John Catholic Church in Carrollton.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Union Baptist Church through the funeral home. Online condolences and memorials, www.haskellandmorrison.com.

State Road 362 to get chip seal

Indiana Department of Transportation maintenance crews were to begin chip seal operations on State Road 362 in Jefferson, Clark and Scott counties as Monday, Aug. 23.

Work will take place along the county line between State Road 3 and State Road 62, with access for local traffic only during the working hours of approximately 8 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Chip seal operations typically last around two to four days per location depending upon weather. Work is completed under lane closures with flagging to prevent damage to both vehicles and the roadway. During operations, existing pavement is coated with liquid asphalt, which seals cracks and provides waterproof protection. This extends the service life of the roadway and lowers maintenance costs. Once the seal coat is complete, loose aggregate is applied and swept from the road. After a curing period, crews will return to fog seal the new driving surface and apply pavement markings.

Motorists should slow down, watch for stopped traffic, and drive distraction-free through all work zones. All work is weather-dependent and schedules are subject to change.

The problem is you

Dear Annie: My husband and I are trying to figure out how to emotionally support our adult daughter, who is 40 years old. She is going through a very emotional period in her life. She has been married for about a year, has “major issues” with her spouse and is not certain she can “stay in the relationship.” But from our conversations with her and what we’ve observed, the issues she describes seem to be all “her.” For example, she expects her spouse to give his undivided attention to her all day on his day off from work. She is not even willing to allow chores such as mowing the lawn or doing the laundry to interfere. She doesn’t want him to be reading, talking on the phone or checking emails — just paying full attention to her. Her sister is extremely concerned about her as well. Her behavior is wacky, and she is highly offended that we are not “supporting” her when she obsessively describes arguments with her spouse. We are all concerned about mental health issues but are at a loss. We’ve encouraged her to seek therapy, which she has started, but she is already looking for a different therapist. Her sister is going to ask her own therapist for advice on how to be more supportive. We’ll do the same. But we can’t bring ourselves to agree with her that the spousal behaviors are abusive, because they simply are not. This opinion is based on what we’ve observed firsthand; not by what she says about what happens. We can say, “we are so sorry you are unhappy,” but this is not the affirmation she is seeking from us. This family dynamic is new to us and is stressing us all out. Any advice? — Stressed Out Family

Dear Stressed Out Family: It does sound like your daughter could be suffering from a mental illness, or maybe just extreme insecurity or narcissism. Regardless of the diagnosis, which hopefully her new therapist will be able to make, you are also suffering. The best thing to do is to consult a professional yourself about how best to support your daughter during this difficult time of her life — and yours.

Dear Annie: You recently published a letter from a person whose father had died, and whose sister refused to tell her 6-year-old child about the loss. There is a resource that would be useful to the sister: ChildrensRoom.org. — Sympathetic in Boston

Dear Sympathetic in Boston: Thank you for your suggestion. I hope this brings her more comfort.

Two isn't always better than one

Dear Annie: I am a 70-year-old retired man with no children. My wife died in 2016, and we had a very happy relationship together for more than 28 years.

About three months after she died, I met a wonderful lady, "Sarah," who took my heart away. However, she had very strong religious convictions that I simply did not share. For a long time, she said that all we could be was friends because of our differences. However, I was still madly in love with her, despite her insisting that we could only be friends.

In the meantime, I was introduced to another lady, "Jill," and we also initially agreed to be friends only. So for several months, I would go out to movies, sporting events and concerts with Sarah two or three times a week and with Jill on different days, also two or three times a week.

I did not tell Sarah or Jill about the friendly relationship I had with the other. In my mind, I told myself that because we were only friends, I did not need to tell Sarah and Jill that I was seeing both of them. I knew this would be a recipe for disaster, but I continued to see both of them regularly. I am very embarrassed to say that I was not honest with either one of them. (OK, I will admit it: I told numerous lies.)

As you may guess, Jill and Sarah eventually found out about each other. Sarah said we could no longer be just friends, and that I had to choose. Jill basically said the same thing. The one I truly loved was Sarah, although I cared for Jill. However, to not hurt either one's feelings, I did not commit to either one.

Sarah has blocked my emails, texts and cellphone calls. I did call her once on her landline, but she hung up on me immediately. Jill still tolerates me, but she expects so much more from me than I can give. She expects marriage, total commitment and no talking to any other single women my age.

I hate myself for all the mistakes I made, and I simply cannot quit thinking about Sarah. She broke up with me over a year ago, and the pain still hurts badly. I currently have low self-esteem, stay depressed and find myself wondering how to grasp for a reason to continue living. I have been seeing a therapist and discussing my feelings. This does help some, but I am still in pain.

I know that I cannot change the past, and I need to move forward. I made many mistakes, but that was in the past and there is nothing I can do about them at this point. My question is: Can you recommend a book that will help me to become a better person and recover from a broken heart? — Heartbroken Old Man

Dear Heartbroken: Please try and let yourself off the hook. Sarah was clear with you that she could only be friends. It's not fair of her to then torture you the way she is. You deserve to be happy. The real question is, have you properly grieved for your wife? While a good book is always helpful, finding a grief support group for widows could help you.

26th annual scholarship quilt show Sept. 10-11

The 26th annual Jefferson County Scholarship Quilt Show will be Sept. 10-11 at the Fairgrounds Community Building.

Submitted

BY SPECIAL TO THE COURIER

Jefferson County's Purdue Extension Homemakers will hold their 26th annual Jefferson County Scholarship Quilt Show on Sept. 10-11 at the Fairgrounds Community Building.

Quilts will compete for first, second and third place Viewer's Choice Awards to win ribbons and gift certificates totaling $150 from sponsors as prizes. The first 100 entries will be accepted for the show from 3-6 p.m. on Thursday, Sept. 9. Both recently made quilts and antique quilts in good condition and construction are eligible for entry. Security will be provided 24 hours a day for the quilts during the show and quilts may be picked up after 5 p.m. on Saturday, Sept. 11.

A $5 admission will be charged to see the show, which will be displayed on new, recently constructed quilt racks that allow full view of bed-sized quilts with separate racks for smaller items.

The Homemakers chose this community service project 26 years ago to help provide scholarships for Jefferson County high school seniors who are college bound. In May of 2021, four scholarships were announced. All proceeds of this year's show will go toward scholarships awarded in May 2022 and all area high school seniors are welcome to apply. In addition, each year the Homemakers construct a queen-size quilt that can be seen at the show and chances bought to win at a drawing at 5 p.m. on Saturday, Sept. 11 with all proceeds going toward scholarships.

The show will also include home-focused vendors as well as crafts, baked goods and food. Anyone interested in being a vendor should contact the extension office to be directed to show administrators. Local quilt shops and community businesses help support the quilt show.

Main Street info session Wednesday

The City of Madison will hold an informational meeting for the public on the second phase of the Main Street maintenance project on Wednesday at 5:30 p.m.

The meeting will be held in the back room of Little Golden Fox, 602 West Main Street, for the purpose of sharing the construction schedule for crack seal and filler, which will begin on Monday, Aug. 30, weather permitting, and the schedule for the liquid road application.

The plan is to also share plans for Main Street re-striping and a proposal to re-strip Main Street from Broadway to Cragmont streets as three lanes rather than the current four lanes.

The session is open to the public.

ways to plug in, so I can give back to the community," she noted.

Krebs was a basketball Indiana All-Star in 1980 and 2009 inductee into the Indiana Basketball Hall of Fame. After high school, she played at Central Missouri State University, where she scored more than 2,000 points to become the school's career scoring leader.

Courtney said both Krebs and Scott were outstanding candidates, but he endorsed Krebs because of the many initiatives the Mayor is working toward to move Madison forward, and he said the city needs someone with Krebs' determination in making a difference in the community.

"We all (in Madison) know about Carla as a basketball player, and that she was an Indiana All-Star, and went onto a great career at Central Missouri State. We know of the hard work and dedication that Carla puts into anything she does," Courtney said, adding that Krebs is a person he feels can truly make an impact in her work for the city.

Courtney also said Krebs is someone who moved away from the city and returned, which provides another dynamic in that she also has the view of someone moving into the community. "We're wanting to bring people and attract them to city," said Courtney, noting Krebs can provide some insight to that while serving on City Council.

Krebs and her husband, Joe, are happy to be living in Madison. "I've been a supporter of Madison for 59 years," said Krebs, who noted she's also been a supporter and encourager of the work Courtney is doing for the city as mayor.

Creech has worked in the County Assessor's office since 2008 with that being her first job in the workforce after graduating from Madison Consolidated High School in 2008. "I know the ins and outs of everything in the office," said Creech, adding that she came into the County Assessor's office doing entry level work, worked her way up to third deputy, then second deputy, and then became first deputy in 2015. She has worked under three County Assessors including Margaret Hoffman Bridgford, Tina Glesson and Mannix. Additionally, she has attained the Level III certified Assessor-Appraiser certification.

Despite her vast experience in the County Assessor's office, Creech said she hadn't felt comfortable seeking elective office until her run for City Council District 2, a position in which she was elected in the general election of 2019.

"That was the boost I needed to do the election process," said Creech, who said she loves working in the Assessors' office and plans to seek a full term during the 2022 election. "It's a great job."

Creech said she enjoyed being able to serve on City Council. "It was a great opportunity to make a difference in our city," she said, noting she was pleased to be a part of bettering the city for what it can be for her children, Mason and Elizabeth.

Creech planned to be sworn in on Monday by Jefferson Circuit Court Judge D.J. Mote. Krebs will be sworn in by Courtney at the next City Council meeting.

Mistakes haunt Madison in 34-13 loss at Mercer County

BY DAVID CAMPBELL
HARRODSBURG, Ky. — Madison put together a late charge but first-half wobbles had already doomed the Cubs in a 34-13 season opening loss to Mercer County in the Fort Harrod Bowl in Harrodsburg, Kentucky, on Saturday.

The Cubs finished the game with more yards and fewer turnovers than their hosts but mistakes in the red zone — also Madison’s Achilles’ heel a year ago — left coach Leroy Wilson frustrated afterward.

“When you’re in the red zone several times in the first half and you can’t punch it in, that’s frustrating. We’ve had that conversation for two years now,” Wilson said. “When you get into the red zone, you need to get it in. At the same time, if you get it in and it gets called back for some reason, that’s frustrating too and we need to learn to handle that to be able to respond on the next play.”

Mercer County took a 27-0 lead into halftime but the Titans didn’t score all of their points in one short burst. The Cubs forced two turnovers and kept Mercer at bay but Madison couldn’t overcome its own mistakes.

Mercer scored its first touchdown right at the end of the first quarter on a 1-yard run by Brayden Dunn to take a 7-0 lead then, following a Cub punt, went up 13-0 on a 31-yard pass from Thaddus Mays to Aaron Cato.

The next drive proved to be the killer. The Cubs worked their way deep into Mercer territory when Jalen Lu kitsch intercepted Kaden Oliver’s pass and raced 80 yards for the score and a 20-0 lead. Another Buchanan TD pass, this one for 15 yards to Cato just before halftime, all but ended the game.

Madison had a chance to take some momentum into the half when they marched down the field and scored on an Oliver 5-yard scramble, but the play was called back on a questionable illegal blocking penalty. The Cubs ended up not scoring before time ran out.

The call at the end of the half was one of several that went against the Cubs on the night. Although penalties were nearly even — Madison had nine for 85 yards and Mercer had 10 for 75 — all of the Cubs’ seem to come at the worst times, either deep in Titan territory or after a big play.

Wilson refused to let the penalties be an excuse, instead saying that his team simply needed to execute better.

“We can’t have drive killers. You come out on the second play of the game and go 50 yards and have it called back on a holding call,” Wilson said. “It’s frustrating. We knew exactly what we wanted to do and how we wanted to do it and it’s tough to swallow.”

Madison played much better in the second half. Mercer added an unconventional score by Lukitsch — this time on a 40-yard fumble return — early in the third quarter to go up 34-0 and was close to triggering the mercy rule when the Cubs got their own fumble recovery to end another Titan rally. Madison then scored on the first play of the fourth quarter on a Garrett Gatke 5-yard run to break up the shutout and added a final score on a 5-yard pass from Oliver to Colin Yancey with 33 seconds to go.

The Cubs racked up 303 total yards while host Mercer had 299 yards. Oliver was 15-of-29 passing for 143 yards with Yancey catching eight balls for 82 yards. Gatke had 79 yards on 16 carries while Oliver had 70 yards on 22 carries.

Defensively for Madison, Dylan Dirksen had eight tackles and Cameron King had seven tackles — two for a loss. Myles Moon had an interception, Avery Darnell had a fumble recovery and Aiden Binzer had a sack.

Dunn had 72 yards on 22 carries for Mercer and was named the game’s Most Valuable Player.

Madison returns to this side of the Ohio River on Friday to take on a familiar opponent at South Dearborn. The Cubs have lost four-straight to South Dearborn and haven’t beaten the Knights since 2016.

“One of our mottos has been ‘Next Play, Next Rep, Next Game.’ This one we have to put behind us, show up on Monday and get ready for the Knights,” Wilson said. “If we can sustain drives like we did tonight and not shoot ourselves in the foot, we can be pretty good. Our offense played pretty decent, our defense played really well, and we’re getting that experience. And we’ll gain some more next week.”

CROSS COUNTRY ROUNDUP

Madison boys win own Knoble Invite

BY THE COURIER STAFF

Madison boys cross country defended its home course in style, winning the Lou Knoble Invitational on Saturday.

The school’s on-campus course, which is also named after former coach Knoble, was inaugurated last year but this year marked the first 5K race held on at the facility that starts and ends on the high school football field and winds its way across the creek and around Madison Junior High School.

A total of 10 schools entered runners in the race but only five posted team scores on the boys side. Of those, Madison’s 44 points was the lowest, six better than former Hoosier Hills Conference rival Jennings County.

“Our guys have put in a lot of work this summer and it showed today. We wanted to focus less on times and more on competing and the guys did just that and came away with the team win, one of the first since the 2014 season,” Madison boys coach Kris Sandlin said. “We also had many guys within 30 seconds of their best time along with a few new runners completing their first 5k. This is a great way to start out the season.”

Logan Ferris and Lane Brawner led the Madison charge, coming across the line nearly together in ninth and 10th place, respectively. Ferris ran 19:40.37 while Brawner was 10th in 19:44.11.

Neel Mistry placed 13th for the Cubs in 19:56.85, Leighton Wielgoszinski was 16th in 20:31.65 and Trevor Hoffman was 19th in 21:12.88 to round out Madison’s scoring.

In non-scoring runs, Lucas

Owen was 26th (no time available), Colton Copeland was 32nd in 23:22.80, Liam Murphy was 36th in 23:55.88, Layne Laufer was 47th in 26:29.38, and Xavier Cosby was 50th in 28:30.35.

Shawe’s Sam Fewell was 11th in 19:47.91.

Madison finished third out of four scoring teams in the girls race with 65 points. Columbus East won the event with 33 points and Charlestown was second with 40.

Shawe’s Calli Alderman was the top local female runner, running fourth in 22:36.89. Cadence Traylor led Madison by placing sixth in 22:56.40.

Isabel Wilber was 11th in 25:04.32 for Madison, Madalyn Flowers was 32nd in 29:41.39, Addie Nott was 37th in 31:45.39, and Sarah Adams was 39th in 32:37.99.

Providence junior Ben Kelly won the boys race in 18:22.91 and Charlestown junior Jessica McCoy won the girls race in 21:22.02.

Both local teams return to action today with Madison traveling to Silver Creek and Shawe heading to Switzerland County.

REBELS, PACERS RUN AT SW SHELBY

Cross country teams from Southwestern and Switzerland County opened their 2021 seasons at the Jeremy Wright Small School Invitational at Southwestern (Shelby) on Saturday.

In the girls race, Switzerland County placed sixth out of 18 teams with 162 points while Southwestern did not field a complete team. In the boys race, Southwestern was 13th with 342 points while Switzerland did not field a complete team.

Freshman Amber Detmer led Switzerland County’s girls by coming in 12th in 22:47. Gracie White was 27th in 23:53, Carlee Boggs was 38th in 24:34, Alisha Detmer was 57th in 25:24 and Avy Burkholder was 75th in 26:29. In non-scoring runs, Ashlyn Covington was 96th in 27:57, Bri Stow was 156th in 34:53, Terra Oeffinger was 166th in 41:04, and Jessica Hollin was 167th in 41:14.

Kirsten Geary led Southwestern with a 34th place in 24:20.42. Alea Crumley was 80th in 26:46.41 for the Rebels and Patricia Smith was 103rd in 28:25.84.

Colton Cloud led the Southwestern boys by coming in 45th in 19:31.30. Keegan Gross was 50th in 19:45.68, Jamison Lewis was 69th in 20:39.44; Braylin Miller was 89th in 21:09.54, and Landon Higgins was 127th in 22:11.67. In non-scoring runs, Alex Hitchcock was 178th in 24:09.05, and Ashton Crumley was 192nd in 25:07.10.

Nathan Furnish led Switzerland County with a 25th-place finish in 18:49. Cooper Hon was 100th in 21:34, Derek Hoskins was 142nd in 22:48 and Dylan Sullivan was 177th in 24:07.

Austin won the boys race with 36 points while Forest Park was second with 79. Forest Park’s Spenser Wolf won the race in 16:25.34.

Forest Park won the girls race with 76 points while Western Boone was second with 90. Audrey Knoper of Western Boone was the top individual in 19:55.02.

Switzerland County hosts Southwestern, Shawe and Carroll County in an on-campus race on Tuesday.

‘Miss Owensboro’ wins city’s 2021 HydroFair

BY BOBBIE HAYSE
MESSENGER-INQUIRER

In a boat bearing Owensboro’s name, Andrew Tate won the Grand Prix North American Championship Heat on Sunday at the first HydroFair the city has had in 43 years.

Tate and his crew traveled from Ann Arbor, Michigan with the boat “Miss Owensboro.”

Following the race on Sunday, in which Tate started out in the fifth position due to a penalty he incurred in the first race of the day, Tate said he won it all for a team member who recently passed away, Mike Endres.

“I’m just the lucky guy that gets to drive the boat,” Tate said, adding that there’s a lot of legwork behind the scenes to pull off a good race. “The whole team works their butts off.”

Tate thanked the city of Owensboro for hosting the race, and he thanked fans.

“All I could do was push it,” he said. “It was a heck of a race, and I couldn’t do this without the help of so many people. We are just so happy to be here.”

It’s very special to participate in hydroplane racing in Owensboro for the first time in more than 40 years,

Tate said, and to put on a final show like the last race of the day.

There were six boats in the final race, but one — GP-55.

“Especially after fans waited all weekend,” he added.

Racing was delayed Sunday due to river conditions, and this was after racing was canceled Saturday for the same reasons.

Boats didn’t touch water until about 2 p.m. on Sunday. Typically they would run about 20 heats, but they were only able to get in less than 10, said co-announcer John Tomey.

Tomey said he’d never seen a river fluctuate like the Ohio.

American Hydroplane Events Race Director Randy Lientz said the number one concern in an event like boat racing is safety. Due to precaution, there were no injuries reported, from boaters or any attendees in the crowd.

There is a certain amount of consideration and planning that goes into determining what Lientz called a “river race.” Organizers communicate with the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers up and down river to help control the flow of the river, in an effort to decrease water levels increasing and decreasing.

Still, plenty of debris floating down river kept individuals inside of the safety patrol boats on the outskirts of the racing track busy catching and pulling logs all day. Their efforts meant a safe track for boaters, Lientz said.

That’s an important consideration when some of the boats participating travel up to 170 miles per hour, he said, as one stick can result in serious injury and damage to the watercraft.

Lientz said organizers did their best to prepare for the changing river, but in the end they are all at the mercy of the elements.

“Still, we weren’t going to let Mother Nature win,” he said. “And we were able to do it all and keep everyone safe.”

Second place overall went to driver Jeff Bernard, in boat number 79 named “Bad Influence.” Third place overall went to Brandon Kennedy, number 35, in boat named “Legacy 1.”

SOCCER ROUNDUP

Shawe opens season with 2nd place finish at Jennings

BY THE COURIER STAFF

NORTH VERNON — Shawe boys soccer reached the finals of the Panther Cup before falling 4-0 to South Ripley in the championship game at Jennings County on Saturday afternoon.

Scoring had not been a problem over the first two games for Shawe with the Hilltoppers posting a 7-1 win over Milan on Friday night and a 4-2 win over Morristown on Saturday morning. In the championship game however, Shawe was outdone by the speed and size of the Raiders, who scored three goals in the first 20 minutes of the game to take a big lead. South Ripley added a final goal late in the second half for the final tally.

The Hilltoppers looked very impressive in passing and shots on goal. They had multiple shots directly on goal but were denied by the play of South Ripley goalie Brystan Tingle. When Tingle wasn’t stopping shots, multiple Raider defenders were clearing shots off the line. In the end, Shawe’s Jacob Hertz (21) fires a shot past South Ripley defender William Tunny (16) during the championship game of the Panther Cup at Jennings County on Saturday.

Shawe had many great plays but simply no goals to show for it against a team they will play at least twice more this year. First year Shawe coach Patrick Bear was pleased to emerge with a winning record on the weekend, but disappointed in how the final played out.

“I came into the weekend wanting to win more games than we lost but I’m disappointed with the 4-0 loss. They scored three goals in a matter of minutes and then they got a lucky break in the second half,” Bear said. “I think we did a lot better in the second half of possessing the ball and taking away their game. Their game is bomb it down the field and outrun everybody. We had our chances and I feel we got better each game.”

Bear knows that if Shawe wants to win sectional this year, it will have to go through South Ripley and his team has to play smarter than other teams even though their big and strong.

“They’re bigger and stronger than us but that’s where you have to play smarter. We didn’t in the first half and it showed,” Bear said. “We have a very young team. We have two defenders who have never played significant varsity minutes, so we’ll get there but for now we have to bounce back and get ready to play Monday and put this game behind us.”

In Friday’s win over Milan, Jacob Hertz collected a hat trick with three goals while Jack Grote had two goals and two assists, and Christian Ortiz and Eric Liu scored one goal each. Hunter Kennett had five saves in goal.

In the win over Morristown on Saturday morning, Hertz had two more goals while Pablo Recio and Miguel Morales-Vazquez each had a goal. Morales-Vazquez and Liu each had assists and Kennett had four saves.

Kennett had four saves against South Ripley.

Shawe, now 2-1 on the season, traveled to Lanesville on Monday and then heads to South Ripley on Wednesday.

PACERS BEAT CARROLL 6-2

Madison golf places 6th at Floyd Invitational

BY THE COURIER STAFF

Madison’s Keara Eder and the Cubs golf team each placed sixth in the Floyd Central Invitational at the Old Capital Golf Course in Corydon on Saturday.

Eder, a senior, shot a two-over 74 in the top-heavy field. Evansville North’s Reagan Sohn was the low-medalist with a 69, one of three players to shoot under par.

“Unfortunately, Keara had one bad hole that kept her out of medalist contention.

She went into the water a couple of times on hole 18, which was actually about her 11th hole with the shotgun start,” Madison coach Jake Shockley said. “And it was a tough field, with two top 10 teams in the field, there was just no margin for error. She has had a great start to the season though; a coach couldn’t ask for much more than she has done this year or for her career.”

Grace Bronkella shot a 92 for Madison, Gracie

Gasaway had a 107, Lilly Fix a 116 and Reagan Warren a 119.

As a team, Madison shot 389. Floyd Central won the event with a 302, Evansville North was second with a 307 and Columbus East was third with a 350.

“I think overall we played pretty well, all things considered. Grace and Gracie did the Deion Sanders two sports in one-day thing after playing volleyball in the morning, and I thought they battled hard today,” Shockley said. “Grace had to absorb a few penalty strokes and still shot a 92, which is pretty positive. We were still able to beat our official best 18-hole score for the year by a couple of strokes on a pretty tough course with quite a bit of water.”

Madison traveled to Jac-Cen-Del on Monday and heads to Henryville on Tuesday. The Cubs then host Columbus East on Thursday.

Mistakes, injuries doom Switzerland County in 33-6 loss to Crawford

BY DAVID CAMPBELL

Switzerland County’s youth showed up in a big way in a 33-6 loss to Crawford County in the Pacers’ football season opener at home on Friday.

The Pacers had more than 200 total yards offense in the game but two key turnovers and numerous injuries doomed any chance Switzerland County had to claim the win.

Switzerland coach Ryan Jesop knew that this season would be a learning experience for his young squad and the key is that the Pacers learn from their mistakes.

“We had a lot of key injuries with guys that would have been playing and different people being sick or in quarantine and they happened to be to seniors and (Crawford) took advantage,” Jesop said. “We had some guys that are just young and it got into their heads a little bit. It was rough all way around but as I told the kids, don’t lose, learn, and that’s what they’re going to have to do all season.”

The Pacers’ play of the game didn’t involve a score. Switzerland County forced a fumble on a Crawford series with the Pacers’ Gabe Jackson recovering and running the ball down to the Wolfpack 16-yard line.

Switzerland ended up with no points on the series when Crawford stopped the Pacers on fourth and inches from the 7-yard line.

That failure sent waves through the Pacers. Crawford scored on its next series — a Keith Brooks’ 89-yard quarterback scramble — and never trailed.

“That one hurt because we couldn’t get one yard,” Jesop said. “I think it really affected them after that.”

Crawford, which entered the season having lost 11-straight games, recovered a muffed kickoff on the next series and turned that into a 12-yard touchdown run by Ashton Arnold for a 13-0 halftime lead.

Switzerland grabbed the momentum back early in the second half when Matt Davis ripped off an 89-yard touchdown run to close the gap to 13-6, but Crawford took it right back when Brooks ran a short kickoff 65 yards for the score and a 19-6 lead.

Crawford added another score on its next possession — this time in a 3-yard run by Tanner Arnold — and got its final score late in the game when Ashton Arnold scored from three yards out.

Switzerland County, which did not collect a first down until late in the third quarter, got down to the Wolfpack 27-yard line late in the game but could not score.

Davis finished with 174 yards on 13 carries and accounted for nearly all of Switzerland’s offense. Brevon May recorded two sacks on defense.

Brooks rushed for 137 yards on 12 carries to lead Crawford County, which had 277 yards rushing on the night.

Switzerland County hits the road for the first of three-straight games against opponents from Kentucky when the Pacers travel to Ohio River neighbor Gallatin County on Friday.

Naquin homers twice, Reds beat Marlins, 3-1, to sweep series

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS

CINCINNATI — Tyler Naquin hit two solo homers and Vladimir Gutierrez pitched seven effective innings, helping the Cincinnati Reds beat the Miami Marlins 3-1 on Sunday for a sweep of their four-game series.

Naquin’s leadoff shot extended his hitting streak to 12 games. He added his 18th homer in the eighth, making it 3-1 when he drove an 0-2 fastball from Anthony Bass into the seats in right-center.

Cincinnati won for the sixth time in eight games. It also moved a game ahead of San Diego for the second NL wild card when the Padres lost 7-4 to Philadelphia.

Next up for the second-place Reds is a three-game set at NL Central-leading Milwaukee.

“There’s just not really a better time of year for a baseball player,” Reds manager David Bell said. “It’s not even close. This is what it’s all about.”

Miami wasted a sharp performance by Sandy Alcantara (7-11) in its seventh straight loss. Alcantara struck out a career-high 11 while working seven innings of two-run ball.

The game was tied at 1 when Mike Moustakas led off the fifth with a drive to right for his fifth homer, stopping an 0-for-26 slide, the longest of his career.

Gutierrez (9-4) allowed three hits, struck out eight and walked one. Lucas Sims got three outs before Michael Lorenzen pitched a scoreless ninth for his third save.

Reds 5, Marlins 3 (Friday) — Sonny Gray pitched one-hit ball through seven scoreless innings, Tyler Naquin and Joey Votto homered in the fifth, and the Cincinnati Reds beat the Miami Marlins 5-3 on Friday night.

Gray (5-6) had a 7.22 ERA over his previous six starts but was efficient against Miami. He needed eight pitches in each of the first two innings, then worked out of a bases-loaded jam in the fourth, whiffing Lewis Brinson on three pitches to end the threat.

The right-hander retired Miami in order in five of his seven innings and exited after throwing 89 pitches. He struck out five.

“Maybe as good as he’s been all year,” Reds manager David Bell said. “Just in complete command.”

Titans carry on with head coach in quarantine with COVID-19

BY TERESA M. WALKER
AP PRO FOOTBALL WRITER

NASHVILLE, Tenn. — Titans coach Mike Vrabel anticipated further testing would confirm he has COVID-19.

He was right. The Tennessee Titans practiced without their head coach Monday with Vrabel quarantined at home after testing positive Sunday morning.

Special teams coordinator Craig Aukerman helped run practice, while defensive coordinator Shane Bowen filled in by talking to reporters after the session.

Bowen was the first coach to test positive last September during the NFL's first COVID-19 outbreak during the season, before a vaccine was available. Vrabel disclosed this spring that he had been vaccinated.

“Get your rest and take your meds,” Bowen said. “Hopefully, we get him back sooner than I got back last year.”

The Titans’ outbreak eventually involved 14 players and nine other personnel. Only Vrabel and defensive lineman Anthony Rush, placed on the reserve/COVID-19 list before Monday’s practice, have been affected so far.

“Just like we tell the players, when somebody goes down, it’s next man up,” Bowen said. “Everybody’s just got to take on a little bit more. You lose a little bit obviously with his presence ... But we’ve got to be able to pick up the slack and get these guys going and be able to get things accomplished.”

Vrabel may not be able to return before Sept. 1 at the earliest. The Titans (2-0) wrap up the preseason Saturday night hosting Chicago (1-1) with the season opener Sept. 12 against Arizona.

The Titans made some other moves Monday, apparently having seen enough to pick their kicker with one preseason game remaining.

They waived as injured kicker Tucker McCann, leaving Sam Ficken as the lone kicker on the roster after a strong week in practices and in Tennessee’s 34-3 win over Tampa Bay. Ficken made field goals from 48 and 58 yards and had five touchbacks on kickoffs against the Bucs.

Vrabel said Sunday that Ficken hadn’t done anything to hurt himself.

“I think his leg has gotten even stronger since he’s got here,” Vrabel said. “And I asked (assistant coach) James (Wilhoit), ‘Is it stronger or is he just hitting it with more confidence?’ And James thinks that he’s just swinging with more confidence because it clearly looks like a stronger leg to me.”

BOSTON — Travis Shaw hit a game-ending grand slam in the 11th inning, and the Boston Red Sox beat the Texas Rangers 8-4 on Monday.

Shaw, who entered as a defensive replacement in the eighth, drove a 3-2 pitch off Dennis Santana (2-3) over Boston’s bullpen. He flipped his bat and looked at the dugout before rounding the bases and getting mobbed at the plate.

It was Shaw’s first hit since he was claimed off waivers from Milwaukee on Aug. 15. He also began his big league career with the Red Sox in 2015.

Alex Verdugo and Hunter Renfroe also homered for Boston in the makeup of Sunday’s scheduled game, which was postponed due to the approach of Hurricane Henri. Garrett Whitlock (5-2) worked 2 ⅔ innings for the victory.

The Red Sox committed a season-high five errors and had two baserunners cut down in a 10-1 loss on Saturday night. Manager Alex Cora called the the game “embarrassing” and “not acceptable.”

The Rangers have the majors’ fewest wins since the All-Star break at 8-26. Andy Ibáñez hit a tying two-run double in the ninth against Matt Barnes.

The Red Sox wasted seven dominant innings by Nathan Eovaldi, who allowed an unearned run and four hits.

Barnes loaded the bases before Ibáñez’s drive to right-center bounced into Boston’s bullpen. Whitlock relieved and struck out the next two batters to end the threat.

Nathaniel Lowe’s RBI single through the short-stop hole against Whitlock scored Yonny Hernandez in the 10th, but Rafael Devers hit an RBI double into the triangle in center, tying it with two outs in the bottom half.

Verdugo drove a first-pitch curveball from Kolby Allard into Boston’s bullpen for a two-run shot in the second. It was Verdugo’s 12th homer, matching his career best.

Renfroe made it 3-1 with a solo shot in the sixth, sending a drive into the Green Monster seats.

Boston committed two errors in the fifth: Third baseman Devers juggled the ball before dropping it trying to throw to first, and first baseman Bobby Dalbec had a throw tick off his glove.

Allard gave up three runs in six innings.

TENNIS ROUNDUP

Rebels’ Helton wins title at Muskateer Invite
